BRUCE BLOOM

Oct. 20, 1959-May 13, 1976

We remember Bruce Bloom as a very special teenager. Maybe it was his flaming red hair, or wide, easy grin, or cheerful, helpful personality — Bruce made an unforgettable impression on everyone who met him. Bruce belonged in the great outdoors. He hunted and fished and explored his world. And he was always around to help whenever a friend called. We will always remember Bruce as a very special classmate and friend.

The Pencil

Plain and simple

Little instrument.

It can be broken

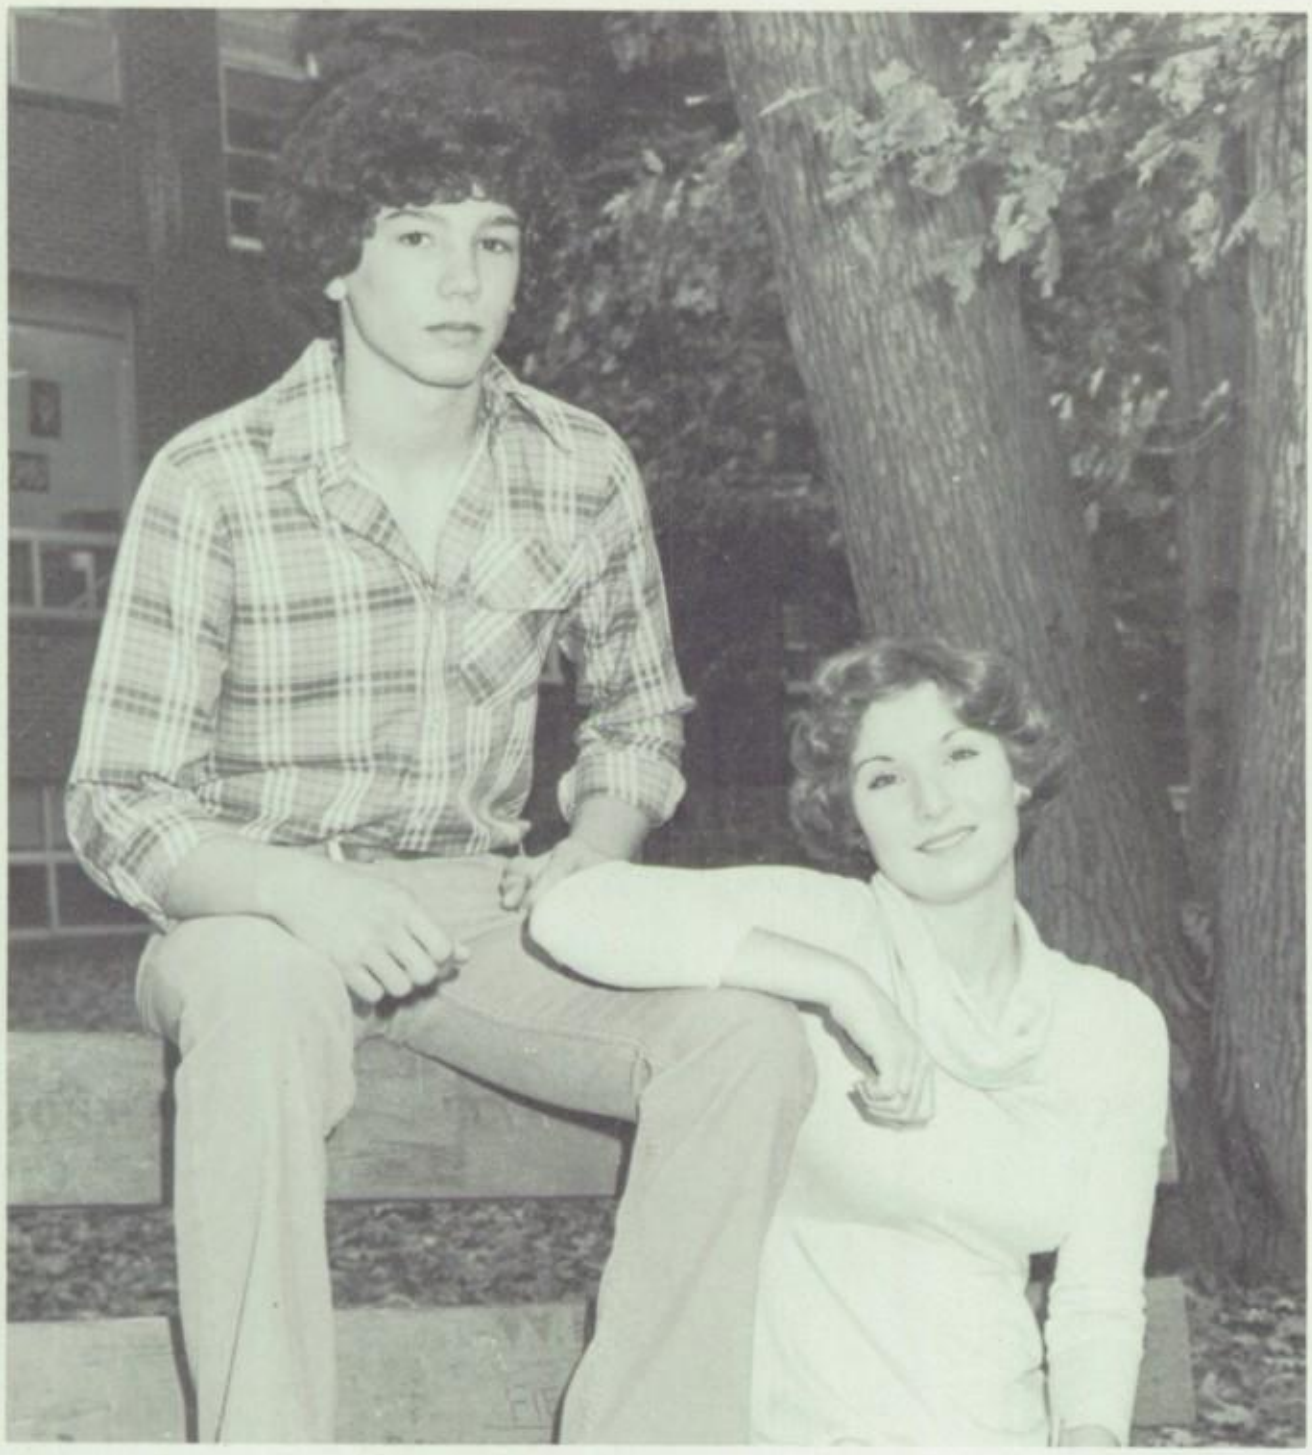
It can be sharpened.

It can be shared.

But unlike life,

You can erase the mistakes.

A poem by DEBBIE BERKEY published in "Magic of the Muse" a Treasury of modern poetry.



Not a hair out of place, no wrinkles to hide, LADELLE FOLTON and JOE BERTOLINI come off as the neatest of them all.

DONNA GIBSON and JOE PASTUCH take the honors for "good looks" and the title is well earned.

Voted the pair with the most school spirit, JANINE FERRE and RICK McLARNEY put up another Cougar star.

OPQRSTUVWX(WHY)Z
Study?

Why study? Why indeed, when there were so many more interesting things to do with your time — like watching "Happy Days" re-runs, having Big Mac Attacks, catching a quick party around town, or participating in the daily Grand Prix around the school building. And after you had done all those things, you went home to relax . . . only to find piles of unopened books staring at you. "Open me, or die," they cried, with death being synonymous with never seeing the family car again or never getting grandma's graduation gift because you'd never graduate. So on you'd go — to your books, first trying to determine where you could best concentrate. In a quiet room? (Not without WDVE on the radio.) During lunch? (Not on a day when sloppy joes were being served.) With your girlfriend? (Well you could say you were studying . . .) Once down to the serious business of actually doing your homework, you had to decide on the quickest way to finish the most work with the least amount of effort. The best way, of course, was to call up a friend who had already done the history assignment and just copy his answers. For physics, you bribed your older brother to do the work, promising in return to keep quiet about last night. Then you coerced your mother into typing your P.O.D. report, while making necessary changes in the name of family pride. That gave you just enough time to read "Macbeth" in Cliff Notes version. Shakespeare should have written that way in the first place. But, on a bad night, when all else failed you actually did a little honest work yourself. You were able to tolerate even that, until you realized that you were the pawn in a sadistic plot to drive you insane. Teachers actually were trying to destroy you by getting together and planning it so that all your tests, book reports, termpapers and advanced math exams for the six weeks would be due the same week. Well, you decided you'd show them. You weren't the type to be pushed around like that. You just didn't do any of the work!

Kudos to J.F.K.H.S.

Raging Snowfall FLOOD

To the graduating class of 1978,

The theme of your yearbook is most appropriate. The symbolism that you can relate to your life is interesting. A pencil makes an observable mark. Now that you are graduates I challenge you to make your mark on society. A mark, unlike that of a pencil, that need not be erased. With our society so in turmoil, we wonder when the bubble will burst. Use your life, with its talents and abilities, to make this a better place to live for yourselves and for posterity. The mark you make need not be the same one as many great Americans have already made. All we ask is that your mark be a result of the best efforts that you can possibly put forth. That's all that is asked of any individual.

Thank you and Good Luck!
